

THE MOTHER OF ABOMINATIONS

2006

The Bible describes Babalon as "The Mother of Abominations".

Let's examine that statement in a Qabalistic context:

We know from The Vision and the Voice that Babalon is associated with the sephirah Binah. Binah is the 3rd sephirah and the last one in the Supernal Triad before the emanation of creation crosses the Abyss. Follow the "Flaming Sword" on the diagram below.

The key to deciphering this mystery is in the interpretation of the Tree as a model for creation, as opposed to the more common interpretation as a model for initiation. If you imagine starting at the veils of negative existence (just above Kether), then working your way down one sephirah at a time until physical form is manifest, we get a story something like this (abbreviated for relevance):

The veils represent the definition of dimensions from nothing. The first veil, a single dot (or point of light, if you prefer). The second, a line (1 dimension). The third, a circle (2 dimensions). Kether is the first sephirah and also represents the origin of 3-dimensional existence, though still without spirit or time. Chokmah is motion and as a result of that motion, the concept of time is born. Binah is Spirit. Taken together, the Supernals represent a single transcendent Mind that is the source and origin of everything that is. They are 3 and they are 1.

The Abyss separates the next set of sephiroth from the Supernals. It is a place of extreme transition. Because it is here that the concept of the individual is born. Thus, Chesed is the first sephirah which embodies the concept of an individual separate from everything else. We call this ego.

So, as you can see, Babalon sits on the throne of Binah. In that capacity, it is her job to create individual egos from the one Mind. Given that these egos are mere illusions and inferior to the one Mind, it is not unfair to characterize them as abominations.¹⁶⁹

¹⁶⁹ Wasn't I just adorable back then?